LAST CHRISTMAS

The Institute of Clinical Services secured the Press Halls for their festive celebration in 2018. 900 guests arrived to a Prosecco reception, walking through the atmospheric lower warehouses and past a fire-breather to the Press Halls, where they were greeted with state of the art sensory futuristic projections and electrifying light displays.

Full Circle provided a contortionist LED hula-hooper, as well two strikingly elegant illuminated ballerinas. Moving Venue were also on hand to provide world-class catering options, including an array of varied street food selections as per the client's request.

Vibration Design and Production pulled the evening together with state of the art props, neon tube lighting installations and vast projections. Full Circle were on hand to provide sound, with a DJ in place until late. Our packages are completely customisable, make Printworks your playground.

"We've had rave reviews following Friday night, you guys put on a great event again for us and it was especially good with the extra bodies in the venue - so thank you for taking such great care of us!" - Institute of Clinical Services
